Message from Inspector Colbert

Welcome to your July Newsletter. Following the personnel changes that I announced in your last newsletter, I can now confirm that PCSO Matt Bradshaw has moved across from a neighbouring parish to work with PCSO Darrin Sore. We have reviewed the parishes' priority areas as we start the next quarter year and Matt and Darrin will target these as we move through the summer months.

Crime Updates

Offence	Numbers	What could this entail
Arson	1	Damage caused as a result of fire.

Message from your Engagement Officer

Don't let the lovely weather cloud your judgement, we are asking you to consider the vulnerability of your vehicle if left for long periods of time in car parks. Motorists are advised to remove all valuables from display and from the vehicle where possible. Opportunist thieves will be on the look-out for personal property left on view.

Also with this weather please consider your dogs if taken them out with you, do not leave them in vehicles unattended. Temperatures in vehicles become hotter than the outside and can cause distress to your dogs, if you can't take them out at your destination then consider leaving them at home. Finally, Norfolk is well known for its maze of open waterways and on a hot day the water may look an inviting place to cool down. Please remember the rivers around the broads are unsuitable for swimming in and have hidden dangers such as a sudden change in depth, decreases in temperatures and unseen objects and currents, which can cause even the strongest of swimmers to get into difficulty very quickly.
